

Jewish Academy students come to you "live from NBC-17"

By Jodi Gore

On March 22nd the 2nd and 3rd grade superstars from the Jewish Academy of Wake County went on an extraordinary field trip to NBC-17 TV station. The children have recapped their experience in their own words.

"This was unlike anything we had ever done before! When we entered, we had to be very quiet because anchor Sharon Tazwell was broadcasting live. Most people don't get to see this! That was one of our favorite parts. We also loved going in front of the green screen and saying what we thought the weather was going to be. The green screen is what meteorologist stands in front of while the computer makes the background look like it does when watching. Bill Reh, the hysterical meteorologist, showed us his computer. On it he had created a bus that moves in front of a house to show the morning bus stop weather forecast. This was the best field trip ever!"

That's all folks! See you when we are on TV!

Jewish Academy Superstars have a memorable experience at NBC-17.
